HAYS PREDICTS AN OVERWHELMING G. O. P. VICTORY

SAYS 32 STATES WITH 338 ELECTORAL VOTES ARE SURELY REPUBLICAN
(United Press)

New York, Oct. 29.—Victory for Harding and Coolidge by an electoral majority that will exceed the unprecedented Roosevelt electoral majority of 1904, was predicted by Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, in a formal election forecast today.

Chairman Hays' statement follows: "Harding and Coolidge will be elected overwhelmingly by the largest popular majority ever cast and by an electoral majority that will exceed the unprecedented Roosevelt election in 1904.

"We are now approaching the conclusion of this campaign. On the part of the republican party it has predicated upon the necessity of the revival of patriotism in this country.

"It has for its main purpose the re-establishing of an economical and efficient administration of the country government. The democratic strategy in this campaign has desperately sought to escape just and due responsibility for democratic extravagance, autocracy and failure to solve many of the domestic problems.

"The democratic management has sought to hide behind a smoke screen which is as counterfeit as the 1916 pledge that Wilson would keep us out of war.

"But America is uppermost in American conscience today and that means that the American voter is intent upon making America safe at home as well as abroad and the democratic party can not avoid its eight years of maladministration.

"The electorate is determined that the accumulated work in Washington will no longer be denied attention, that all domestic problems shall be met and solved immediately, for which problems the democratic party for eight years have stood impotent and in confessed bankruptcy.

"The republicans have succeeded in the earnest effort to keep their campaign on the very highest plane. In this course they will continue to the end unaffected in any way by the depths to which the opposition have descended in the concluding days of the campaign.

"I have complete one hundred per cent faith in complete republican victory at the polls because I have one hundred per cent confidence in American common sense and because I have one hundred per cent evidence that this dependable American intelligence will certainly express itself at the November polls.

"Thirty-two states are surely republican. Seven additional most probably republican and only nine at the most safely democrat. The minimum number of certain electoral votes is 338. It is much better than an even chance for twenty-four more, making the almost certain republican electoral vote 392 with a very favorable addition of twenty-five."

JOHN W. WEEKS

One of the busiest men around the New York headquarters of the Republican National Committee is John W. Weeks, former United States Senator, a member of the executive committee of the Republican National Committee and Massachusetts national committee. The executive committee under the leadership of Chairman Will H. Hays is directing the Republican campaign.

LADY ESSEX

Lady Essex, the former Adele Grant, daughter of Beach Grant of New York, will wed the Duke of Connaught, uncle of King George, according to a report from London. Lady Essex is a widow, Earl Essex having died in 1916.

BANDITS ROB ST. PAUL JEWELRY STORE OF $50,000

(United Press)

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—The store of A. L. Shapiro & Bros., was entered by four bandits at 7:45 A. M. today and the cashier robbed of jewels valued at between $50,000 and $75,000. They escaped.

TAFT SUPPORTS HARDING AS ONLY HOPE FOR LEAGUE

(United Press)

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29.—In an address before a republican woman's committee here today, former President Wm. Howard Taft said he was supporting Senator Harding for president because the latter's election was the only hope for the league of nations. He predicted the election of Harding and Coolidge in a landslide.

The league of nations is not the issue on which the republican candidate will be swept to office. The big thing is the desire for a change in administration. Taft charged Wilson with destroying the league because he could not get Article X of which Wilson was the author.

ASK FARMERS TO STRIKE AGAINST LOW PRICES

(United Press)

RALPH COUCH, United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Oct. 29.—All farmers virtually are asked to organize for a possible strike against the present low price of farm products in a resolution adopted here today by representatives of more than thirty farm organizations. The resolution calls on farmers to band themselves together so all produce may be marketed "in an orderly manner."

Populations of Moscow and Petrograd Hostile to Bolsheviks

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 29.—A state of siege has been declared in Moscow, dispatches from Helsingfors to the British foreign office said today. The situation of the soviets is more critical, the dispatch said. The populations of Petrograd and Moscow were reported to be more hostile to the soviet government.

A Radium Safe.

Radium being incomparably more costly than gold naturally has to be carefully guarded, and a special safe for this most precious of metals is possessed by the British Radium corporation. The safemaker had, like Caesar at Alesia, to face his defenses both ways. To defy burglars' tools he had to have walls of steel, and to keep the radium emanations from escaping he had to construct an interior cage of lead, lead being practically the only metal not penetrable by the rays. Another difficulty to be overcome was the construction of a door that would prevent the loss of emanations when it was opened. Valves are fixed in the door, through which tubes of mercury can be passed for the collection and storage of the emanations.

WHITE IS HOPEFUL DEMS. WILL WIN

SAYS COX WILL CARRY BORDER STATES AND IS HOPEFUL OF NEW YORK

(United Press)

New York, Oct. 29.—The close of the last week of the 1920 campaign is full of signs that point unmistakably to a democratic success, Chairman Geo. White, of the democratic national committee, said in his formal forecast today.

Republican forces are in retreat everywhere, White declared. His statement follows:

"The general political situation at the close of the last week of the campaign of 1920 is surely full of signs which point unmistakably to a democratic success.

"Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt will carry the border states of Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri and Oklahoma, in addition to the southern states. They will carry Ohio and Indiana. On the Atlantic seaboard in New York, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, due to an eleventh hour shift, the situation is improving every minute, and it is very certain they will carry New Jersey, Connecticut and New Hampshire.

"In the west reports from Montana, Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico, Washington, Nevada, South Dakota and Utah are that they are certain democratic and we believe we are carrying Nebraska, California and South Dakota. In Minnesota, Oregon and Wisconsin our chances are hourly improving and the great swing toward us is on in Kansas, Illinois and even in Iowa. The republicans are demoralized from the Canadian border to the Gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Their forces are in full retreat everywhere."

WILSON ENDORSES COX CAMPAIGN

(United Press)

Washington, Oct. 29.—President Wilson today sent a letter to Gov. James M. Cox warmly endorsing the campaign of the democratic presidential nominee and predicting his election.

The letter follows:

"My dear Governor Cox: As the campaign approaches its climax, I want to give myself the pleasure of writing to you with what admiration I have followed your course throughout the campaign. You have spoken truly and fearlessly about the great issues at stake and I believe you will receive the emphatic endorsement of voters of the country. As one of those voters and as one of your fellow citizens, I want to express my entire confidence in you and my confident hope that under your leadership we can carry the policy of the national government forward along the path of liberal legislation and a reformed nation and the whole world will again see an illustration of wholesome strength of democracy fruits and what the founders of the republic purposed when they set this great government up."

"Allow me to sign myself,
"Your gratified and loyal supporter,
(Signed) Woodrow Wilson."

LIEUT. R. F. WEHRLE

Former Brainerd Resident Has Relatives Here, Funeral Was Held in Superior, Wis.

Lieut. Raymond F. Wehrle, who recently died and whose funeral was held in Superior, Wis., was a former Brainerd resident. He was born in Brainerd Oct. 15, 1893. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wehrle and the former was employed as a machinist at the shops here.

Relatives living in Brainerd are Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Peterson, and Miss Helen Holmes, recently from Tacoma, Wash., who is a cousin of the Lieutenant.

The "Poptimist" of the state normal of Superior, publishes his obituary which in part reads:

"At the age of four Raymond came with his parents to Superior where he entertained the Blaine school. He continued with his school work through the Superior high school and was graduated in 1912. He entered the Superior normal school in 1912 and was graduated in 1915. While at normal he was a member of the state championship football team and was chosen all state conference center in 1914. He was also an active member of the Lyceum debating club and took a keen interest in all school activities.

"At the time that he was called to the colors he was in the employ of the Soo Line railway. He was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant at the Fort Sheridan training camp, Nov. 27, 1917. He ranked high in his work and was considered an excellent soldier. He put his heart and energy into his work and won recognition on his merits.

"On January 8, 1918, Lieut. Wehrle sailed from New York under sealed orders. He landed at Liverpool, England and proceeded to Southampton, crossing the channel to Le Havre, France, and from thence to Langres, France, where he entered the army infantry specialist school. At this school he ranked as one of the best students. He specialized in musketry and bayonet work for which his fine physique particularly fitted him.

"In May 1918, Lieut. Wehrle left the school and was assigned as instructor to troops then arriving from the United States. His excellent work won for him a promotion to first Lieutenant early in July. In August he was assigned to the 58th infantry of the 4th division (regular army). With this famous division, which was particularly honored by the French for its gallant work, he went through the battle of St. Mihiel, the Meuse Argonne offensive, and other minor engagements. He did his duty as a soldier and as a comrade; he bore the hardships and trials which fall to the lot of a soldier, without complaint. His excellent work and coolness under fire won for him the commendation of his superiors, and a recommendation that he be promoted to captain.

"After the armistice was signed the fourth division was made a part of the army of occupation and was ordered to Coblenz. The march was long and hard, conditions were bad, and the hardships many. Exposure and cold had done their work and many men who had faced deadly machine gun and artillery fire without failing, weakened by the cold, rain, and exposure, became victims of the deadly pneumonia germ.

"Upon reaching Cochem, Luxembourg, Lieut. Wehrle was removed to the field hospital suffering from pneumonia. On Christmas eve, Dec. 24, 1918, Lieut. Wehrle passed away. His body was buried with military honors in the little cemetery at Cochem, Luxembourg."

Funeral at Superior

One of the largest and most impressive military funeral ever conducted in Superior was held when the remains of Lieut. Raymond F. Wehrle, 1512 Belknap street, was interred in Greenwood cemetery, says the Superior Telegram.

"Hundreds of friends of the late Lieutenant, many of whom were in uniform, crowded the Hammond Avenue Presbyterian church to pay their last tribute to the member of the A. E. F. who died in Cochem, Germany, Dec. 24, 1918, following a brief illness contracted on the memorable hike to the Rhine, in which division, the Fourth, participated. Rev. Leslie Bechtel preached the funeral sermon at the church.

"The cortege was preceded by a platoon of Legionaries and World War Veterans under the command of Neil Williams and Frank Ennis, commanders of the respective posts. The firing squad was in charge of Edward Guingne, Rev. Hood, formerly of the 128th Infantry, 32nd Division, officiated at the grave. Pall-bearers selected from the intimate friends of the deceased and those who had served in the army with him were O. K. Anderson, C. M. Tomlinson, William Odwens, Sidney French, James H. Ellis and Harold G. Colon."

FOOTBALL BOYS

GO TO BRAINERD

(Little Falls Daily Transcript)

The Little Falls High school football team will wend its way to Brainerd tomorrow in a pilgrimage destined to bring home the trophies of victory to Little Falls. Inasmuch as local fans are in utter darkness as to the probable strength of the rival team, no advance dope has been issued here as to the probable outcome of the struggle, though the home boys are determined to cop a victory by spirit and pep count for anything upon the gridiron. The Brainerd team bested Crosby last week to the tune of 21-6 while the local lads bit the dust in St. Cloud. The defeat down river was no disgrace, however, and the local team may yet secure a place as runners up at least for the mid-state title.

The boys received their first real workout tonight since the St. Cloud battle and the entire team ran at top speed. Michie, who has been nursing a Charlie horse, Martin, a sprained thumb, and Bastien, who injured his knee, are all in fine fettle again. The game at Brainerd will start at 3:00 o'clock and will be played on the ball grounds. The hoar has been arranged so that all who desire to go up on the noon train will have time to eat before the battle.

Baby Surprised

The little baby boy of Rev. and Mrs. P. G. Falquist was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when he was presented with a purse large enough to buy a baby buggy, by the friends and members of the congregation of the Swedish Bethany church. Rev. and Mrs. Falquist wish to thank their friends for the gift through the columns of the Dispatch.

New Park Today and Tomorrow

Annette Kellerman was given an all-star cast in her first modern comedy drama, "What Women Love," a First National attraction, which comes to the New Park theatre today and tomorrow.

After the story was purchased from Bernard McConville, the famous screen scribe, for $10,000, Sol Lesser instructed Harry Caulfield, his production manager, to spare no expense in securing the best available talent for Miss Kellerman's support.

Wheeler Oakman, who played the masculine lead in "The Spoilers," "The Ne'er-Do-Well," "Mickey," "The Virgin of Stambou," and other successes, was chosen to play opposite the "divine Venus."

Walter Long, who has been chosen as the ideal heavy by D. W. Griffith, ever since Long played the part of the negro Gus in "The Birth of a Nation," was picked for the part of the villainous Larsen.

Ralph Lewis, the veteran character actor; Bill Montana, who is now being featured by Marshall Neilan, and a host of other well known players complete the cast.

Trade With Australia Grows.

Trade between this country and Australia is showing a healthy growth, according to figures supplied to the department of commerce by A. W. Ferri, trade commissioner, who is at Melbourne. They cover imports and exports for the first quarter of the current year, and show the imports during that period to have been about $27,775,000, against exports to this country of approximately $10,350,000. February exports nearly equaled in value the totals for January and March, and in that month the outgoing shipments exceeded the imports. In the same month, however, the value of the imports was less than half of the goods brought in during March.

Making It Homelike.

On Dolly's birthday she was presented with a baby bulldog, and her delight was delicious to behold.

It was very young, and she insisted upon taking it to bed with her, but the next morning she was looking very tired.

"Haven't you slept well, darling?" asked her mother.

"No, mummy," said Dolly. "Nelson was crying in the night for his munise, so I kept awake with him for company, and I made awful faces all night to make him link I was his bulldog muver to comfay him"—Answers, London.

Right Views of Life.

We are responsible for the windows of life we open. There are times when the wrong window is opened but it must not remain so. Neither should the same window be continually open and others perpetually closed. The symmetrical life needs the use of all its windows. Through them enter life's various appeals. They challenge our sympathy, intelligence and will. How we interpret them and react upon them will determine what we are now and what we will become. No man can live profitably to himself. To grow he must open the windows. To help the world he must through the knowledge gained send into the world the mature product of his character to find its way through other people's windows thus bringing to them the incentive to the fuller life.—G.R.

Hurry Gets Nowhere.

There are some jobs in life that can't be hurried. You can't hurry anything unreasonably without injuring the product. People are like things. They can be cultivated but they can't be hurried. Try rushing them into situations they are not prepared for, and they either rebel or collapse under the strain of situations beyond their ability. So the only sane thing to do is to minister to them as they can stand and let results come naturally.

AMERICA'S TELEPHONE
ACHIEVEMENTS

France has not as many telephones as Chicago. Greece has not as many telephones as one of the largest American office buildings. All Europe has only one-third the telephones that the United States has. In twenty years the number of Bell manned and connected telephones in the Bell System has increased fourteen fold. In 1830 there was one telephone to one thousand persons; today there is a telephone to every nine persons. During the past year and a half more new telephones were installed in American homes and offices than are in use throughout Great Britain. America has only one-sixteenth of the world's population but nearly two-thirds of the world's telephoning is over the 24,000,000 miles of wire in the Bell system. The Bell System—that is the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Associated Companies—in the extent of its public service has no counterpart anywhere, and has been built out of the savings of hundreds of thousands of thrifty men and women.

HIS OWN WORST ENEMY

If Cox could quit playing cheap demagogic tactics for a time and devote himself to championing the Wilson League of Nations, he might stand some chance of winning the election. However un-American the Wilson pact is, and in the opinion of its opponents conducive to trouble with its entangling alliances, yet there are many republicans who believe it is a step toward securing universal peace in the future, and might support Cox because of his advocacy of the League, if it wasn't for his incorporate speeches, and cheap ward-heeler methods.

VOTE FOR 4TH AMENDMENT

Put an X mark after "yes" on the 4th amendment, when you go to the polls Tuesday. There can be a difference of opinion as to whether Harding or Cox will make the best president, or whether Preus or Shipstead, will make the best governor, but there ought not to be any difference over the question of improved streets for Brainerd, and these can only be had if the railroads are required to pay for local assessments.

URGE PASSAGE OF AMENDMENT

Municipality League Asks Voters' Attention to Gross Earnings Tax

In an effort to prevent the failure of the passing of the Gross Earnings Tax Amendment through lack of interest, the League of Municipalities of Minnesota is waging an active campaign to bring the question to the attention of the voters. The amendment will be voted on at the general election Nov. 2nd. The following statement is furnished by the league of cities.

"The constitution of Minnesota provides that there shall be levied upon railroads in this state a gross earnings tax in lieu of all other taxes and assessments. The word assessments has been interpreted by the courts of the state to include within its meaning special assessments which it is necessary to levy from time to time against the property of the railroads when some improvement has been made adjacent to that property and for which the railroads should, in all justice and equity, be required to pay its share as all other adjacent owners of real property must do. And yet under the present state of the law the railroad cannot be so compelled to pay.

The result of the situation is hardship upon the municipalities of Minnesota when they want to make special improvements upon such of their streets as lie adjacent to railroad property. Miles of streets in cities of this state are going unpaved because of this situation. The general funds of the cities cannot stand to pay the railroads' share of the expense, nor can such expense in fairness be superadded to the share of the other property owners adjacent to the street to be improved. Sewers have gone unaided. Water mains cannot be put in. And special crossings, other than those which the railroads can be compelled by law to provide across their rights of way, cannot be made for the convenience of the public.

The rural communities as well as the cities and villages suffer from the present situation. Drainage projects are blocked. Ditches often cannot be dug. Necessary culverts cannot be put in. The country districts need the Gross Earnings Tax Amendment as much as do the urban.

"In order to change the law, the legislature in 1919 passed the Gross Earnings Tax Amendment, which takes special assessments out from under the constitution and the supplementary statute, and allows the municipality to lay special assessments against railroad property the same as against other private property. In order for this to become the law the constitution requires that it be ratified by a majority of those voting at a regular election at which it must be submitted. It is to be submitted at the general election in November. At that time many things of great importance are going to be decided: a president of the United States is going to be elected, a governor of Minnesota is going to be chosen the Babcock Road Amendment must be accepted or defeated. There is some danger that the Gross Earnings Tax Amendment will be overlooked among all these important issues, not because it is not worthy of whole hearted support but simply because it has not been brought sufficiently to the voter's attention. It is of the utmost importance to the municipalities of Minnesota that the Gross Earnings Tax Amendment be ratified, and it is the duty of the voter to see that it is ratified."

COMMUNICATION

Editor Dispatch:—
Wonder if our friend George Gardner is cognizant of the fact that most people would feel safer with the word of reliable people than the contract of some others. This applies to his discussion of the water tower site.

Those attending his mass meeting last summer in which he endeavored to secure public opinion against the tower site, remember that when questioned he stated that he would sell the city a more desirable site. This caused an audible smile on the part of his hearers at that time and the smile has not yet disappeared.

It is interesting to hear George talk about the interests of the tax payers. Wasn't he the one who was so anxious that the city hall be built, if it could be built near his interests? Wonder if he remembers that the taxpayers are paying $3750.00 taxes in interest alone on bonds for these buildings the half of which is not needed by the city. Then it costs $845.00 for janitor services and approximately $1,250 for fuel. Over

But, what is the use. We mustn't take George too seriously. Two mills tax for our city hall. Sincerely:

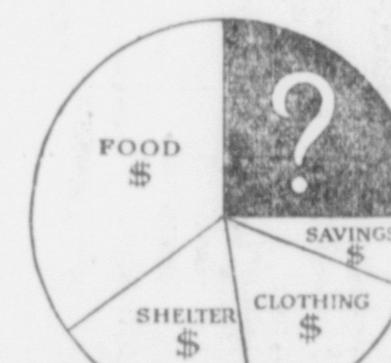

"CITIZEN"

MR. HILTON IS ABLE OFFICIAL

Unselfish Devotion to the Affairs of Minnesota by Attorney General Should be Rewarded at Polls.

CLIFFORD L. HILTON.

The legal department of the state is a most important one. The Attorney General, in addition to being the chief law officer of the state is a member of numerous boards and has duties involving the exercise of unusual skill and ability. All the many legal complications of the state's affairs are referred to him. Each department demands a portion of his time. Through his activities millions of dollars that would be otherwise lost are annually turned into the treasury. It is of the utmost importance that the Attorney General be a man well qualified to protect the state's interests. In Clifford L. Hilton, the present Attorney General, the state has such a man.

Was Born in Minnesota.

Mr. Hilton was born at Kenyon, Minnesota, December 8, 1866. When 13 years of age he moved to Fergus Falls, Minn., where he still retains his residence. He attended the common schools of Minnesota and graduated from the Fergus Falls High School in 1884. He then entered the University of Wisconsin, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1888. He was admitted to practice law immediately after his graduation and has been actively engaged therein ever since. In 1911 he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States.

General Hilton's life is a record of faithful and efficient service, all offices held by him being in the line of his chosen profession of law. For two years he served as city attorney of Fergus Falls. He was county attorney of Otter Tail County for ten years. In 1909 he was appointed Assistant Attorney General.

Succeeded Lyndon A. Smith.

Upon the accession of the late Lyndon A. Smith to the office of Attorney General, Mr. Hilton was appointed first assistant, and when the office of Deputy Attorney General was created, he was appointed to that position. Upon the death of General Smith, Mr. Hilton was appointed attorney general. He was nominated republican candidate and elected to that office in 1918.

Showing the magnitude of the department's operations since January 1, 1917 and up to May 1, 1920, it has collected for the state a total of $4,861, 522.47.

Since January 1, 1917, 280 civil cases have been handled in the district court, of which 36 have been appealed to the supreme court. Of the cases so handled, 198 have been brought to a final determination. Seventy-nine civil cases have been argued or are now pending in the state supreme court, of which 3 have been carried to the United States Supreme Court. Fourteen cases have been argued in the United States Supreme Court, eight of which were decided in favor of the state and four cases are now pending before that tribunal. Eleven cases have been argued in the United States District Court; seven before the Department of the Interior; two before the Interstate Commerce Commission and two before other departments.

10,000 Opinions Rendered.

The criminal cases in the State Supreme Court have numbered one hundred ten and in the district courts forty-one. The opinions rendered by the Attorney General and his assistants during this time number about 10,000.

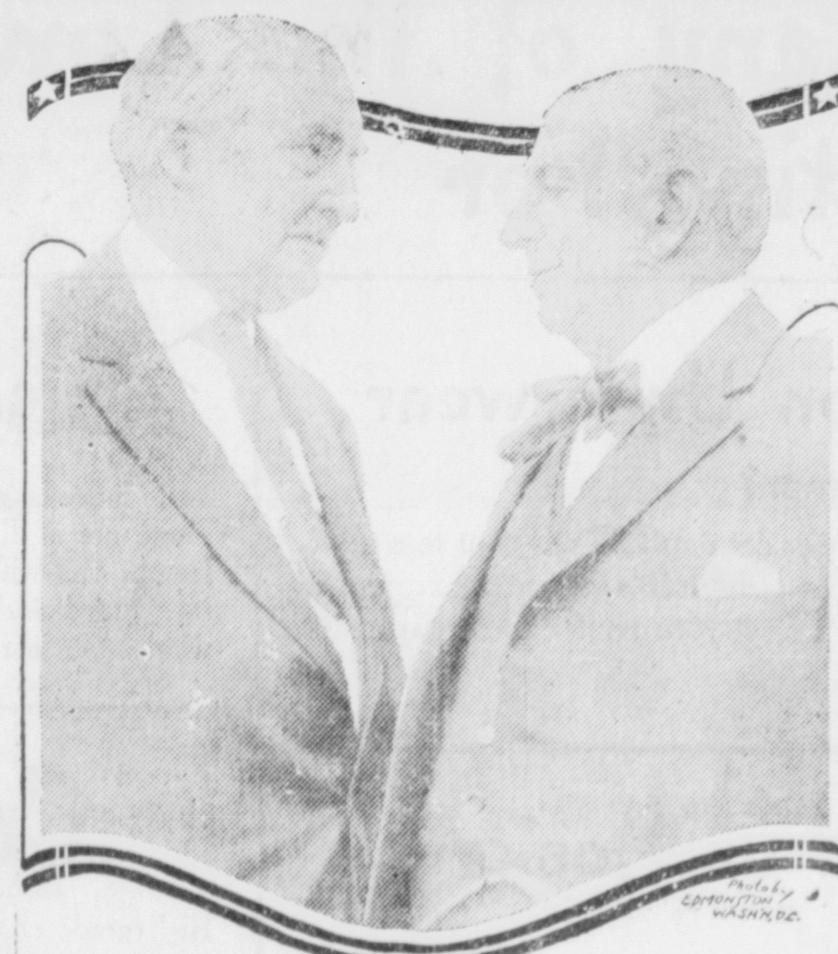

Among the important cases argued and won during this period in our Supreme Court are the Hobart Iron Company case, which determined that the state was entitled to royalties from state mine, based on crude ore measurements, and the Soldiers' Bonus Law case, in which an act of the legislature granting a bonus to soldiers and sailors was sustained against constitutional objections.

In Clifford L. Hilton the people of Minnesota have a dependable and efficient public servant. Because of his familiarity with important cases now pending and the many legal problems of the state, if for no other reason, he should be elected for a second term. He deserves it and the best interests of Minnesota require it.

SOAP AND SOCKS IN SUMATRA

Wearing of Hosiery Is an Indication That the Wearer Earns at Least $20 a Month.

Soap and socks in Sumatra—ten years ago the observant mind of a consulate representative of the United States in that island would have devoted less thought to such matters, but now the internationalization of commerce gives soap and socks in Sumatra their place in the sun. The natives, it appears from a recent consular report, are more and more taking to wearing socks. Those simple garments of extremities, one judges, are becoming an indication that the wearer earns at least $20 a month. American socks are well thought of, as are American soaps, but more socks and soaps from America can be sold in Sumatra if the American dealers in these commodities will give more thought to local taste in decorating the boxes or wrappers in which they go on sale in the bazaars. These buyers in Sumatra, like their socks and socks done up in bright colored containers; in fact, they are inclined to judge the contents by the beauty, from their point of view, of the box. The picture of an American manufacturing plant leaves them cold, nor do they care for a wrapper decorated with landscape in colors. Particularly in the matter of hosiery, they like the box decorated with some brightly colored picture which catches the eye and appeals to the imagination by its "human interest." One judges that it would be good policy for American dealers in socks and socks to discard their present containers and employ some of the artists who make covers for the popular magazines to design and paint them new ones particularly for the Sumatra market.—Christian Science Monitor.

ODDITIES OF GERMAN VOTE

Peculiar Sentiments Revealed in Recent Balloting for Members of Reichstag.

The total number of valid votes cast at the recent election in Germany for the 446 members of the Reichstag was 26,017,500. The votes that had to be thrown out ran into the thousands. One woman wrote on her ballot: "I am voting for you majority socialists this time, but unless I can get Westphalian ham that is made in Westphalia from now on I'll never do it again." Quite a few votes were cast for the Kaiser on the ground that "if elected the humiliation would serve him right." One man from Magdeburg deposited instead of his ballot a five-mark note without comment.

But the prize ballot came from Linden. It was a piece of wrapping paper on which was written "Isaiah 12, 23-24." The verses read: "Show the things that are to come hereafter that we may know that ye are gods; ye, do good or do evil, that we may be dismayed and behold it together. Behold, ye are of nothing and your work of naught; an abomination is he that chooseth you."

FOR MISSISSIPPI SCENIC HIGHWAY

BRAINERD TO STAY ON ROUTE

Local Association of the Highway to be Formed. According to Resolution Adopted

Truman Pierson, general manager of the Mississippi River Scenic Highway association, appeared before the Chamber of Commerce and addressed them on the merits of the highway, the advertising of northern summer resorts to be done by the association this winter, the valuable publicity to be gained by Brainerd, etc. A committee will be named of Brainerd men to take up the matter and retain Brainerd's location on the highway.

A resolution was adopted to create the Mississippi River Scenic Highway association of Brainerd. Mr. Pierson visited Brainerd in his scout car which has traversed every foot of the contemplated highway from the gulf to the headwaters of the Mississippi and on up to Winnipeg, Canada.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was a most interesting one. There was a good attendance and everyone seemed more than usually interested in the proceedings of the evening. Mr. Pierson is a forceful and attractive speaker, knows his subject and talks right from the shoulder. Though Mr. Pierson has been in Brainerd several times this was the first time he has ever been able to meet local business men and talk over his proposition. The Chamber took action and a committee has been appointed to take up the work of securing funds to assist the highway in its work.

Running as it does from the Gulf to the Canadian line and then on to Winnipeg and tapping the very heart of the country, it can not fail to be an important factor in the development of this particular part of the country. Duluth is some day destined to be head of the North American waterway which spells great importance for our European marine commerce. New Orleans being the port for South American commerce is no less important.

Mr. Pierson's visit did much to impress upon those who heard him that while all projected highways and various improvement associations are important and should have our help, none are quite so important or far-reaching in their final relation to the State as the highway he belongs to and that he believes in.

The secretary presented his report up to date and was listened to attentively. The impression is that Mr. Randall feels encouraged and that the future promises greater interest in the Chamber's work. Secretary Randall has arranged for the returns to be given at the Chamber next Tuesday night. They will be called out from the window of the Chamber as they arrive and persons so desiring can get them right at their home on the telephone.

B. H. S. SPORTS

(Contributed by D. H.) At 7:30 tonight the local high school roosters will meet at the south end of Gregory park to form a parade. They will proceed down Sixth street going through the business district and returning to Front street and Sixth. They will then give a snake dance ending up with the high school yell.

This parade is not only for the high school but for every "Booster" of the city. Come on, show the boys we are all backing them. Everyone in the city should be interested. Show your spirit by being in line tonight.

Coach Harry Butler has given the team some stiff practice this week and they are in first class condition. Although Little Falls has a strong team the local boys have no fear but will fight from start to finish.

The Koering grounds has been rounded into perfect shape thru the energetic work of the field committee, so everything is in readiness for the game tomorrow.

This game will be one of the fastest and most interesting games here this season. If you are interested in football do not fail to see this game.

Remember the parade tonight—the local high school and all interested citizens will be represented.

Let her go!!! Three cheers for Brainerd. Hip! Hip! Hurray!

REMAINS BROUGHT BACK FROM FRANCE

Private Claire L. Bixby, of 41st Division. Died in France on July 4, 1918

FUNERAL TO BE IN BRAINERD

Former Brainerd Boy is Nephew of S. A. Stanley and Enlisted from Dickinson, N. D.

News has been received that the remains of Private Claire L. Bixby, age 24, nephew of S. A. Stanley and soldier who died in France of pneumonia on July 4, 1918, will soon be brought to Brainerd for burial. The body has arrived in Jersey City and was sent from that city Oct. 28.

Young Bixby was in Co. K, 164th regiment, 41st division, enlisting from Dickinson, N. D. He was a son of George Bixby and from the ages 4 to 13 made his home with his uncle and aunt, Mrs. and Mrs. S. A. Stanley in Brainerd. Leaving Brainerd, he joined his parents in Harvey, N. D., and later the family removed to Dickinson.

His body is the first to be brought back from the war zone for burial in Brainerd.

MRS. FRITZ M. KOOP

Passed Away Early Friday Morning from Lung Trouble. Succumbed to Long Illness

Mrs. Fritz M. Koop, formerly Miss Vivian Marie Ware, died at Brainerd early Friday morning from lung trouble. She had been sick over two years and bore her misfortune with courage and fortitude. She was fully conscious when she passed away surrounded by members of her family. For a year and half she had been at the sanatorium at Walker in a vain effort to regain her health.

Mr. Koop built a pretty home at 202 Kingwood street and she took great interest in it. She was a member of the Degree of Honor Lodge and a faithful attendant of the Catholic church.

She leaves to mourn her demise her husband, her mother of Swansville, two brothers George and Claude of Woodburn, Ore., and two half sisters in Cherokee, Iowa and Houghton, S. D.

Mrs. Koop was born August 15, 1896 in North Dakota. She was married May 8, 1917 to Mr. Koop. The remains have been taken to the residence of Mr. Koop's father at 323 North Broadway, where they may be viewed until the hour of the funeral. The funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending the communication with all relatives.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR M. & I. NIGHT TRAIN

Announcement Made in Bemidji of Change of Time Contemplated for May First

FASTER TIMES TO THE CITIES

Night Train from International Falls, Bemidji, Etc. to Arrive Minneapolis 7:30 A. M.

(Bemidji Daily Pioneer)

The best news that has come to Bemidji, in traffic circles, for some time was announced at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Civic and Commerce association by President Barker, when he stated on May first a special arrangement would be made by the Northern Pacific and M. & I. Railway to run the night train from International Falls, Bemidji, and points south, into Minneapolis so that it would arrive in that city about 7:30 a. m.

This news was received from W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the Minnesota and International railway company by telephone and was later confirmed by letter. This means that the delay previously experienced at Bemidji will be eliminated and instead of passengers getting into the cities at from 10 to 11 o'clock in the morning they will arrive not later than eight o'clock and probably half an hour or more earlier. This decision on the part of the railroad is the result of negotiations by the Civic and Commerce association for some time past and will be welcomed by all patrons of the road.

SAGHALIEN: A LONG TIME POLITICAL PERPLEXITY

The island of Saghalien, recently subject of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Japan, has been a political perplexity both to Russia and Japan for many years. Soon after the Pilgrim Fathers landed on the east coast of North America, a Japanese feudal baron dispatched an agent to this far northern island of the group that swings south from Siberia, at the mouth of the Amur, to Formosa and Fukien on the China coast. Within twenty years after that the Russians had landed on Saghalien.

The Japanese subsequently made several trips of inspection but a small handful of Russian colonists remained and today the majority of the permanent inhabitants of Saghalien are Russian, while to the Japanese it is little more than a summer fishing resort.

In 1853 Russia sent an ambassador to Nagasaki and a band of troops to Saghalien. While the ambassador conducted negotiations the troops built a fortress but, after repeated attempts, the boundary question was still unsettled.

By 1875 the sea-going Japanese gave up all rights in Saghalien to the Russians in return for full rights in the Kurile Islands and this condition of affairs continued until the Treaty of Portsmouth which gave southern Saghalien, up to the fiftieth parallel, to Japan.

Japanese Saghalien has little agricultural land but has large forests of both deciduous and evergreen trees, amounting to more than 8,000,000 acres. Japanese paper mills are situated in Otaru and elsewhere and an effort is being made to develop the papermaking industry.

But it is on fishing that the majority of the Japanese inhabitants depend for a living. As soon as the summer season is over the fishermen migrate to the southern islands of Japan for the winter. Mauka, on the west coast of Saghalien, is the center of the crab fisheries and much of the crab fish consumed in the Far East comes from this little town. A post road connects Mauka with Toyohara, which is the capital of Karafuto, the name which the Japanese have given to the southern part of Saghalien.

Saghalien has less than sixty miles of railway and white, red or blue lines are painted across the windows of the cars to prevent the people from trying to stick their heads through the glass.

The average annual temperature of Saghalien is near the freezing point and if the Japanese are ever to colonize the island they will have to change their methods of dressing and building.

Karafuto has much coal and there is considerable gold, but in the past the Russian residents have largely confined their efforts to farming and the Japanese to fishing.

Saghalien has not been developed to any great extent, but what natural development has taken place has been done more by the Russian exiles whose permanent homes were there than by the Japanese whose fishing camps and trading centers have dotted the shore line.

PEKING: A CITY WITHIN A CITY

Until recently Peking, capital of China, with its 700,000 people, was one of the least known of the great cities of the world. It took the Boxer rebellion and the siege of the legations in 1900 to open the long-closed doors. Recently it has been in the headlines because of revolutionary disturbances.

Peking is a "city within a city." The Chinese city, built in 1543, is the commercial center. The Tatar city dates from 1267 and includes the famous "Forbidden City," of which the Dragon Throne of the Son of Heaven, Emperor of the Middle Kingdom, is the center. The throne is of rare wood exquisitely carved. Just back of it is a screen of golden lacquer so dainty in design and execution that it gives the appearance of golden lace. Around this throne room are arranged the palaces, shut in by purple walls.

The Chin-men street biscuits the Chinese city from the South Gate, where the railway enters, to the principal gate in the wall separating the Chinese from the Tatar city. Along this main thoroughfare there passes a continuous throng. There, too, may be seen the springless passenger cart, with its blue greced roof and yellow wheels, corrugated metal tires, and its awning sheltering driver and mule, or the Mongolian camel, the ship of the Asian desert; and, interesting above all, the scarlet broided chair with its piece of bacon and parcel of sugar hung on the back as an offering to the demons who might molest the bride while on her journey. Officials hurry back and forth in the gorgeous chariots, their coolies making great din as they seek right of way. Noisy vendors of amulets, and medicines of ground tiger bone to strengthen faint hearts, and extracts of rat meat to make the hair grow, add to the din.

On the east side of this roadway is an enclosure of about one square mile which contains the Altar of Heaven, surrounded by shrines and temples, the most important of which is the circular, three-roofed marble Temple of Heaven with pillars of Oregon pine and roof of deep blue porcelain tiles.

Near the ornate Temple of Heaven is the Temple of Confucius, "the most holy ancestral teacher."

The Washington monument of Peking is the famous thirteen-story Buddhist pagoda from the summit of which a fine view of the city may be had.

Peking claims the oldest daily newspaper in the world, the Peking Gazette, compared with whose age the London Times, with its hundred years, is in its infancy. For six dollars a year a Pekingese can read all that his government desires him to know as to his actions, or he can rent his Gazette for the day and return it. In former years newspapers were found on the walls in the form of posters. They were painted from a large block of wood upon which the intricate characters had been cut by hand.

In the heart of the Tatar city is another enclosure—the "Forbidden City," in which stands the Imperial palace, distinctive in China because it is faced with yellow porcelain. Surrounding the palace are the gardens, reception halls, pavilions and offices formerly used by the emperor in conducting the affairs of the empire.

"Prospect Hill" would be interesting to those who went to the "movies" to keep warm during the recent coal shortage. This hill is a huge mound of coal which was to provide fuel in time of siege, and it is now covered with a grove of beautiful trees.

The Pekingese are consumers only. The trade of the city is small, although it is open to foreign commerce. The famous Grand Canal which connected it with the rich provinces of South China greatly facilitates the transportation of rice and other products.

"Tower of the Winds."

This is the water clock erected at Athens, Greece, in the second or first century before Christ. It is octagonal in plan, 42 feet high and 26 feet in diameter. Toward the top of each side it is sculptured with various symbols of the wind. Originally the structure was surmounted with a bronze Triton which served as a weather vane.

OUR BIRTH RATE IS NORMAL

Census Bureau Statistics Show That Births Exceed Deaths by About One-Third.

The census bureau, on the strength of registered returns, gives figures to show that the birth rate in the United States exceeds the death rate by one-third, which is a gratifying fact. We are not one of the nations that need be anxious on this vital point as far as present conditions are concerned.

One of the most serious troubles in France is the warning in its censuses that in some years more of its inhabitants die than are born. Some of its neighbors grow much faster in population. This disparity was somewhat noticed in the past, yet without fully realizing the terrible menace involved.

The desolated towns and farms of France are a monument to the old census admissions and the awful sacrifice of young French manhood is far more dreadful than the devastation. Often have the public men of France sounded an alarm on the defective birth rate. It is much discussed now by thoughtful French legislators and writers. A census always demands intelligent study.

The United States grows by immigration as well as births, and our school system tends to Americanize the whole body of citizens. Our schools are a great melting pot for Americans of the future and to increase their proportionate number.

The welfare of children is a great national issue. The birth rate and death rate need continuous attention.

"An Adventure with Black Magic"

is an account of the miraculous escape from death at the hands of African savages in the heart of the jungles. This weird and fascinating story of actual experience deals with Voodoo, a religious belief of Central Africans dating back to the Book of the Dead of the Ancient Egyptians.
